

U.S. Army Environmental Command

Joint Base San Antonio, Fort Sam Houston, Texas

Command Sgt. Maj. Joe M. Ulloth Command Sergeant Major

Command Sgt. Maj Joe M. Ulloth assumed responsibly as command sergeant major of the U.S. Army Environmental Command on Aug. 5, 2014.

A native of New Jersey, Ulloth is a graduate of Pemberton Township High School, Pemberton, New Jersey. He received his associate's degree from Fayetteville Technical Community College, bachelor's from Troy University, and master's from Webster University. He attended Army basic and advanced individual training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

Ulloth served in a variety of positions, most recently as command sergeant major of the 593rd Special Troops Battalion, 593rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary) as well as the command sergeant major for the rear detachment of the 593rd Sustainment Brigade at Joint Base Lewis-McChord, Washington. His previous assignments include: CJ-4 sergeant major for the International Security Assistance Force in Afghanistan; first sergeant of Combined Joint Task Force Troy in Iraq; first sergeant for the headquarters and headquarters detachment of the 71st Ordnance Group - Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) and first sergeant of the 242nd Ordnance Battalion (EOD), both at Fort Carson, Colorado. Ulloth also served as first sergeant for the Fox Forward Support Company, 2nd Battalion, 30th Infantry Regiment in Afghanistan; first sergeant for the 4th Infantry Brigade Combat Team for the 10th Mountain Division in Afghanistan and at Fort Polk, Louisiana; and observer/controller at the Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Polk. He was platoon sergeant and battalion motor sergeant for Fort Bragg's 407th Forward Support Battalion and for the 82nd Airborne Division's 325th Airborne Infantry Regiment both in Iraq and at Fort Bragg, North Carolina; platoon sergeant and motor sergeant for the Eighth U.S. Army in Yong San, Korea; and platoon sergeant, maintenance supervisor and squad leader for the 403rd Transportation Company at Fort Bragg.

Ulloth's military schooling includes warrior leaders course; advanced leaders course where he received a distinguished leadership award; and senior leadership course. He attended class 61 of the U.S. Army Sergeants Major Academy and was recognized as a distinguished honor graduate. Ulloth also attended the battalion/brigade pre-command course and CSM development program; joint logistics course; and Army Force Management course. He also completed the First Sergeant Course; U.S. Army Pathfinder School; Jumpmaster School; Battle Staff NCO Course; Airborne School, and Air Assault School.

His awards and decorations include bronze star medals, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, meritorious service medals, Army commendation and Army achievement medals, Presidential unit citation, Joint Meritorious Unit award, Meritorious Unit citation, Army Superior Unit award, combat action badge, senior parachutist badge, parachutist, air assault, and pathfinder badges, and Australian parachutist badge. He is also an inductee of the Sergeant Audie Murphy Club, the recipient of the Ordnance Order of Samuel Sharpe (Ordnance Corps), and demonstrated master logistician by the International Society of Logistics.

Ulloth's deployments include Operation Iraqi Freedom I; Operation Enduring Freedom VII; Operation Iraqi Freedom X, and Operation Enduring Freedom XII.